DEDICATION

We, the Seniors of Rock Creek High School, Class of 1965 do hereby dedicate our annual to Mr. Julius C. Moore, our principal. It is with the deepest respect and appreciation that we do so. Without his constant guidance and understanding, it would have been impossible for us to attain our goal. Our yearbook is one of the most important achievements in our school life, and we would like to share it with him. Please accept the dedication of our annual as a token of appreciation.

CLASS OF 1965

Can it be that it is 1974? I, Pam Vardaman am homesick. I have just finished my seventh year as an active airline stewardess and have decided to return home and look up my classmates.

By mere coincidence, while in New York, I ran into Rita Reber. Her hair is red now. She is married and has two sets of twins. I told her of my plan to return to Indiana and she decided to come with me. She told me that Tom Allen had been stationed in New York, and had left for somewhere in the Pacific, only a few days before my arrival. He is in the Navy.

When our plane landed in Fort Wayne, we ran into Joy Jones. She was preparing to catch a plane to Korea. She was finally reaching her goal, to be an overseas teacher. We bid farewell and returned to the lounge, where a frantic young man about mowed us down. It was Kay Gilbert. "Did you see Joy, which way did she go," he yelled. As we left, Kay was approaching the ticket office. I wonder where he was going. We jumped into a taxi and continued on our trip to Markle.

Just outside Markle, we saw a huge arena type structure. We decided to stop and take a look. After paying the cab driver, we discovered the structure to be a drag strip. Down the track zoomed Terry Becker in a 389 GTO, and just a split second behind was Chuck Iser in a 426 Hemi-head, Sports Fury. What a way to live! After they cleaned up, they decided to help us find the rest of the class.

In Markle, we found several of our classmates. First, we stopped at Randol's Barber Shop. Rick Randol was cutting his triplets' hair. He closed his shop and joined us. Just across the street was a new beauty shop owned and operated by Charlotte Flemming, Peggy Whisenhunt, and Dixie Sparks. They were pleased to see us and told us where to find some of the others. We left them with their promise to come to the reunion party scheduled for that evening.

Downtown, we found Vicki Davis on her lunch hour. She is an executive secretary with the Markle State Bank. With her was Jane Barnes, who is also a secretary, but with the new business firm in town. They too promised to attend our party.

Just outside of Markle, a beautiful hospital and school had been erected. Claude Sparks was running around the school at the rear of his P. E. class. He was quite glad to take a breather and talk to us. Claude teaches math and P. E. He is married and has one little blonde daughter named, Dottie. School was about out, so Claude took us inside. Brenda Britt was busy dismissing her second grade class, and she too joined us. We all walked over to the hospital to find Phyllis Wood. She is a medical technician. We found her with a huge needle in hand. After disarming her, we persuaded her to join us. Sharon Broom was there too. She is a private secretary to a Dr. Blink. She was busy and could not join us, but agreed to come to the party.

We walked over to a huge home. It was Herb Brown's. He inherited a lot of money and was really living it up. We made another stop, this time at a farm house. Ted DeHaven and John Hacker were both there, discussing farm prices. They too joined us. Next, we stopped at a gun shop and found Paul Gephart. Mike Botts was passing the shop. We hailed him and he joined us. We all headed for my house to prepare for our party.

Each person, in his or her own way, had found happiness and success.

CLASS WILL

I, TOM ALLEN, will my ability to not study Spelling to Marvin Ralston.

I, JANE BARNES, will my ability to play the part of hostess in the library, the period after dinner, to any Junior who can hold down the position.

I, TERRY BECKER, will to Alan Geiger, my ability to tear down the fence on the Rock Creek Road on the way home from school.

I, BRENDA BRITT, will my ability to get a sunburn in the winter to Shirley Masterson and Karen Brown. Be careful girls, it smarts!

I, SHARON BROOM, will my ability to sew to any Junior girl that wants it.

I, HERB BROWN, will to Mike Lyons, all my excess height, and my fantastic speed in typing to Jill West.

I, VICKI DAVIS, will to Deloss Brubaker, my ability to stay calm, cool, and collected in typing class. Good luck Deloss!

I, TED DeHAVEN, will my ability to be the only Senior to work in shop to any Junior that wants to try it.

I, CARLOTTA FLEMMING, will my fifth period nap to any Junior girl who feels she needs it. Happy dreams!

I, KAY GILBERT, will my ability to talk in study hall and not get caught too much to Alan Geiger.

I, JOHN HACKER, will my ability to walk out of study hall, without signing out, to Mike Lyons.

I, CHUCK ISER, will my ability to skip school on February 19 and wash cars at the Marathon, to any Junior boy who wants to try it.

I, JOY JONES, will my ability to get along with all the boys in my class to Brenda Hardin. Don't worry about the competition, Brenda, since you will be the only girl. You lucky dog!

I, RICK RANDOL, will my ability to leave school early to all the faculty.

I, RITA REBER, will my ability to put my hair up in a French roll with five bobby-pins to Diane Fillman.

I, CLAUDE SPARKS, will to Jill West, my ability to let Mr. Grogg in the lunch line directly behind me and never in front of me.

I, DIXIE SPARKS, will my ability not to stare at people to Linda Bear.

I, PEGGY WHISENHUNT, will my famous giggle to Karen Brown. Keep laughing.

I, PAM VARDAMAN, will my ability to go with two different boys while going steady to my sister Paula. Keep up the good work.

I, PHYLLIS WOOD, will my ability to play the piano to Nancy Kitt. Happy playing.

We, the Senior Class, will to the Sophomore Class, our ability to go on a class trip after we are graduated, and, to the Junior Class, our coveted blackboard. (We hope the Sophomores don't try to use it, too.)

We, KAY GILBERT, JOY JONES, RITA REBER, and CLAUDE SPARKS, will to the Junior members of the yearbook staff, our ability to get out of study hall and pretend we are working on the yearbook.

CANDY SALES 'N THINGS

The Junior year was a busy year, full of hard work, but still, rewarding. Many projects were undertaken by the Juniors, including the sale of Christmas cards and candy and the sale of magazines. These projects did not seem to be in vain, for the Juniors were looking forward to the trip to New York and Washington D. C. The Seniors even threatened not to take them (as if they were paying all of the expenses.)

Another most unforgettable moment in the lives of the Juniors was the day that the class rings came. No matter how they pretended to be blasé, the new rings on their fingers were prominent. The gleaming rings seemed to say, "Look, this is a symbol of achievement."

This was quite a year for the Freshmen. Especially in Biology. First the class made their many varied collections of insects and leaves. It was quite a sight, as the many different specimens of Lepidopterous, Hemipterous, and so on came pouring into the Biology Room. In fact, we tend to believe that the whole class went buggy. What did they do at the P. T. O meeting? A Beatle act, what else?????

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

Although Cross-Country is a relatively new sport at Rock Creek, we feel that it will catch on rapidly. For those of you who do not know just what Cross-Country is, We will explain it for you. As the name implies it is run "cross-country," that is, it is a two mile run that may lead anywhere from flat land to hills and valleys. While running it you may encounter ditches, swamps, etc. We feel that after reading this you will have more respect for those who run in cross-country meets.

This year's Varsity was young and inexperienced. Consequently our win-lose record was not too impressive. We won six and lost fourteen. This does not seem like too much, but is something for a team which was not supposed to win a game all year.

As there was only one returning letterman, we had practically a new team; and to go with the new team we had a new coach. Next year, however, we won't be so new and neither will the coach, so we should have a successful season.

"Mike"

Claude Sparks was the third leading scorer in the county, and an all-conference selection. His valuable leadership and playing ability will be sorely missed come next season.

Deloss Brubaker held the record for talking. There were actually few times that we went out on the floor that he didn't have something to say. He was one of the six returning lettermen.

Joe Snyder was one of the guards on the first five. He was a very conscientious player and worked hard to correct his errors, a trait that is good to follow.

Don Resler was the only Sophomore on the first five. He had a good season with the second highest average on the team.

"Will"

"Robert"

Robert Mautz was another Sophomore. Although he did not play first five ball the entire season, he did start in several games. He was an invaluable substitute.

Tom Will was another of the Sophomore lettermen. He did not play as much as the others, but should make a fine ballhandler in a year or two.

Principal and Coaches

Mr. Moore
Mr. Shopp
Mr. Kinsey

Marvin Ralston was the only student-manager in the county to get thrown out of a ball game without even as much as opening his mouth. It seems that his worthy assistant (Tom Allen) was yelling at the referees and poor Marvin was ejected from the game for it.

The Rock Creek Track Team didn't exactly set the world on fire this year, but, (as Mr. Grogg, the track coach, puts it) there was a fine crop of Freshmen this year. Because there were many underclassmen on this year's squad, they could possibly be a very tough team come next season. In fact, some of the Freshmen are only seconds off of school records. Besides the Freshmen, there were also many Sophomores, and Juniors. There were only two Seniors who completed the season, so there won't be many graduating from the squad. With these facts in view, you can easily understand how Rock Creek could have very strong track squads in the years to come.

THE COTTONBLOSSOM: Style Show

From the first call of Cap'n Andy's "Welcome Aboard," to the final number by the gingham girls, the show boat was alive with brilliant colors. Sizzling pink, yummy yellow, seafoam green, and clipper white.

The excitement mounted as the pretty girls made their appearances in their lovely show clothes. The audience could almost feel the churning of the water as the narrator, Mrs. Blair, described each and every dress. Her enthusiasm matched the girls who made their dresses.
